ABOUT CAREER OF THE DAY

Our journey began over 10 years ago within the Australian Job market by assisting international candidates and graduates in finding their first jobs in Australian businesses. Education is Australia's third largest export, trailing only behind the commodities of iron ore and coal. However, finding a job after graduation is difficult. We at Career of the Day have the idea that finding a job in Australia shouldn't be so difficult.

After years of experience in the job market, we began using our network to see what employers want and took this knowledge back to individuals looking for jobs. We found a gap in the market for internationals and graduates looking to start their career in Australia and decided to take the opportunity and develop solutions to fill this gap.

One important thing is that you always listened to me and helped me reach my dream. I am loving my job and already learned many things. You made me feel very special and more confident. You really give us a chance to prove ourselves."

"I came to you hoping you could help me find some industry work experience in my desperation to equip myself with "hands-on" knowledge when applying for jobs. I never imagined you would be able to create a chance for me to not only do that but to work towards a permanent job in my qualified profession. This is a blessing for my family especially with our first baby on the way. I keep pinching myself in case I am dreaming. Thank you for everything."

- Rizwan (EMPLOYED)

Keep up the good work and keep on helping people, especially students, in finding a job that suits them best. Special mention to Evan and Matthew, thanks again."
